The battle for your soul has been raging for years.

Your soul is your spiritual, immaterial, immortal part. Though the soul is immortal, it has always had a mortal beautiful, strong, flexible armor. That armor was made to endure at the most, 120 years(Genesis 6:3). In time, a crack or two appears in that armor. They are small at first, and can be mended. They do mend; However, the battle goes on. More and more damage is done to the armor, and after a while, it's beaten, and weathered. At that point, you don't have much time left. Diseases are continuously attacking your soul's armor, damaging it, making it unfit to protect and to house your soul. Left with no choice, the soul can only abandon the armor, and let it turn into dust.

That armor is your body, but the battle isn't lost yet. There's still time to recover, to repair it, and to make it, once again, a fit armor for your true self: your immortal soul. Diseases and the rapid aging they cause don't have to lead you into a premature death. You can stop them.

This book tells you how; step by step. Protect your soul the way it was meant to be protected until your true day comes.
