"It ain't braggin' if you really done it": A 90-Year Adventure Betty B Simm

Ninety years of memories tell how I've done it. In the 1920s I greeted Lindbergh in Paris after his lone flight across the Atlantic Ocean and learned how to swim with Tarzan, Johnny Weissmuller; I met gangster Al Capone. Later in the 1960s. I survived a fiery holocaust that brought faith in God into bloom, served a little while as secretary to Pat, President Nixon's wife. I walked on the Apollo space module before it left for the moon. Then in later years I re-lived Oklahoma pioneer days on horse farms in a California mountain wilderness. This is my ninth decade. My lifetime—so far.
