ESSENTIAL OIL CHEMISTRY

Chemical Families: Aldehydes, Ketones, Lactones

Chemistry is the science of aromatherapy. This brief explanation of the organic building blocks of essential oils is meant to be a helpful reference guide for having a basic understanding about the chemical make up of essential oils.

INCLUDES AROMA QUALITIES FOR EACH ESSENTIAL OIL.

All of life is made of three elements Carbon, hydrogen and oxygen. These three molecules are the components of every essential oil.

Based on their individual chemical makeup these three elements of essential oils can be divided into chemical families. These chemical families tell us about the therapeutic properties, actions and effects of essential oils.

You can select essential oils based on their specific therapeutic chemical properties, actions and effects to formulate aromatherapy blends for healing specific conditions.

??In this quick reference guide to three (3) chemical families (aldehydes, ketones & lactones), you'll learn several of the specific properties, actions and effects of each of the chemical families, their archetypal pattern (typical area of use in aromatherapy) and alchemical or elemental power (primary or basic nature), along with a list of some of the most common single pure essential oils in each family.

“Essential Oil Chemistry,” serves as a helpful guide for selecting essential oils as a healing tool by plant identification which includes their Latin name, preferred distillation method, part of plant used, and some of best locations for production.

You can also use, “Essential Oil Chemistry,” as a quick reference for blending ideas and information on the healing properties for each chemical family.

Any cautions for each chemical family are also noted.

“I highly recommend this to all who are interested in holistic curing and the way that aromatherapy can be applied as an effective Mind Body technique.” ~John L. Turner, MD,
